KICKED BY COLT DONALD McDUGALL NARROW ESCAPE

While leading a young colt out to pasture last week Donald A. McDougall, a resident farmer out of town had a very narrow escape with his life. The colt, it appears, kicked him on the head just above the eye brow leaving an open gash the shape of his foot. The blow was so terrific that Donald was rendered unconscious for some time. He was, however, after regaining consciousness, able to make his way back from the field to the house, leading the colt under his arm.

He received preliminary first aid from Mrs. McDougall and fortunately medical aid was very quickly secured from Wainwright. When Dr. J. W. Little arrived on the scene he found it necessary, in dressing the wound, to have eight stitches inserted. It was thought also that the skull had been slightly affected by the impact and Mr. McDougall was confined to his room for a few days.

At the present writing Mr. McDougall is able to come to town for surgical treatment. Some of the stitches have already been removed and if present progress continues he will be enjoying his usual good health in a very short time.

LARGE BUSINESS DOCKET AT COUNCIL MEETING -- CONSIDER ACCOMMODATION HOUSE LICENSE

Board of Trade Quarterly Meet

President H. P. May of the Board of Trade and six other members, W. E. Zinkan secretary, S. D. Mills, W. S. Clark, P. C. Haynes and Dr. J. W. Little and member of the press were the only men out of a total membership of forty three who turned up at the regular quarterly meeting last Friday evening.

Is it the old story that in winter time it is to cold and in summer it is to hot to turn out to attend to business which does not vitally concern the individual. Or can we be charged with lack of interest and carelessness? It may have been poor memory for it was certainly not lack of knowledge that the meeting was to be held for the secretary W. E. Zinkan spent hours of his valuable time notifying each member personally by correspondence of the time and place of the meeting.

It is a good thing that the success of the board does not depend on the fleeting enthusiasm of the big crowd at the first organization meeting. The real work is always carried on by the few and it often happens that the honor goes to the crowd and not to the few deserving workers. Executive meetings are held where the real work in the interests of the town is done. The next meeting is the one of the membership will held three months from date. But although there were few present something was nevertheless accomplished. A delegation was appointed to wait the week upon the Minister of Municipal Affairs in Edmonton urging the necessity and importance of the establishment of an experimental farm at this strategic centre. Wainwright has many arguments in its favor and it is to be hoped the authorities will be convinced by them and accede to the request.

New Printer At Star Office

A. A. Thorsen, of the News staff has accepted a position with the Star at Wainwright and will take up his duties there next Monday after enjoying a brief vacation of a week.

Art first took up the work in the News office about two years ago and has made rapid advancement in the printing trade. He is now ready to take a responsible position on the Wainwright Star and our best wishes go with him for success.

He is the second young man to leave this year for wider fields of endeavor. C. W. Barnes was given encouragement and support of a number of Telford business men this spring and the result was that the Telford Advertiser came into existence. We hate to lose these fellows but there is some satisfaction in knowing that they are making good and we will always take a keen interest in their progress. - Viking News

On the motion of councillor H. Smith and McQueen the council gave authority to have the pole repaired and the flag flown thereon.

Mr. Fred Small of the Small Bros undertaking firm appeared before the council supporting the request that the town team which is most suitable for the purpose be secured for funerals. The work is to be done at their own expense not at the councils'. The drain connecting their cellar with the main drain on third avenue.

One of the most important matters discussed by this meeting was the advisability of drafting a by-law relative to the licensing of accommodation houses in town. It is within the power of towns and cities in the province to do this according to legislation on the point made at the last session of the provincial legislature. The minister of Agriculture has been consulted for advice regarding proper procedure and what towns are doing in the matter is also being taken into consideration. The provincial legislation on the matter gives councils the power to grant or withhold license from accommodation houses seeking to do business or such within the town or municipality. The by-law will be introduced at next meeting of the council.

The bills for last month amounted to $2295.00 and the treasurer was authorized to issue cheques covering the different amounts.

Gypsies Fled to Spain

And Now the Country is Filled With Music of the Wandering Band.

Spain is filled with music. At nearly any hour of night or day one can hear the twanging and twinging of musical instruments. The country is overrun by orchestras of Hungarian gypsies.

These bands are among the most famous in Europe. They usually are located in Paris, Monte Carlo, Nice and other centers of gay life. When the war began these players, being Hungarians, had to get out of France or be interned as enemies. If they had returned to Hungary they would have had to put up with the Hungarian gypsies in place of visitors. So they migrated into Spain, filling the country with music.

Spain already had its share of gypsies, refugees of the days of the Moors.
These greeted the newcomers with open arms. They play together and often hold grand Hungarian gypsy bands play an Austrian folk gypsy singing and a Spanish gypsy dance.

king of the bull fighters, Goya, is

It is said the weird, Oriental strains of the "coyote" gypsies, who combine the wild, weird music of the Spaniards with strange, but pleasing, notes and tones, are the most beautiful rhythm introduced into music and then to give a dash to the dancing of the "coyote" gypsies. The music is heard everywhere, at entertainment halls, in theatres, in hotels, concert halls and even in the streets. Spain is crowded with these wandering players.

British Agriculture

For 20 per cent. Reduction in English
Live Stock

The expectation is, according to The Farmers' and Stock Breeder, that live stock holdings in the United Kingdom will have to be reduced by 20 per cent. owing to the lack of grazing lands.

It is not anticipated that there will be any forced diminution. In pursued first animals and the dairy stock will stand next in line for consideration. However, especially those who have pleasure purposes will be put on short feed, and it is quite possible some of them may be used for hums.

This, however, is only part of a change which is promised in English agriculture. Three million acres of grazing lands are to be broken up this year, and more will be broken next year, the intention being to put the United Kingdom in a position to be permanently practically independent of foreign food supplies.

As grain is concerned, what the effect of a lessening of pasture lands on grain production will ultimately be is in the matter of the production of a lessening of pasture lands on the carrying ability of an equal area in cultivated land than in the case of pasture.

Because the carrying capacity of cultivated land is much lower than there is much longer than with the pasture. Still it is probable that with an increase in the cultivated land, the country, under normal conditions, be able to produce more wheat than now for human food without necessarily lessening live stock holdings.

In fact, there may be an increase in the carrying capacity of the country in future years as well as well independent of the wheat, and dairy products as well as wheat.

next year, the intention being to put
be permanently practically independent
of foreign food supplies.

of a lessening of pasture lands on
grain production will ultimately be
of a lessening of pasture lands on
the carrying ability of an equal area
of pasture.

Because the carrying capacity of
there is much longer than with the
pasture. Still it is probable that with an
country, under normal conditions, be
able to produce more wheat than
now for human food without necessarily lessening live stock holdings.

In fact, there may be an increase in the carrying capacity of the
well independent of the wheat, and
dairy products as well as wheat.

Gypsies Fled to Spain

Music of the Wandering Band.

musical instruments. The country is
gypsies.

These bands are among the most
and other centers of gay life. When
the war began these players, being
or be interned as enemies. If they
have had to put up with the Hungarian gypsies in place of visitors. So they
with music.

Spain already had its share of gypsies,
refugees of the days of the Moors.
These greeted the newcomers with
often hold grand Hungarian gypsy
bands play an Austrian folk gypsy
singing and a Spanish gypsy dance.

Factor Imperio, the frey notes of the Spanish gypsies who married the king of the bull fighters, Goya, is one of the great dancers.

It is said the weird, Oriental strains
the wild, weird music of the Spaniards
with strange, but pleasing, notes
and tones, are the most beautiful rhythm introduced into music and
the "coyote" gypsies. The music is
heard everywhere, at entertainment
halls, in theatres, in hotels, concert
halls and even in the streets. Spain
players.

For 20 per cent. Reduction in English
Live Stock

The expectation is, according to
The Farmers' and Stock Breeder, that live stock holdings in the United
grazing lands.

It is not anticipated that there will
be any forced diminution. In pur-
stock will stand next in line for con-
put on short feed, and it is quite possible some of them may be used for hums.

This, however, is only part of a
grazing lands are to be broken up
this year, and more will be broken
next year, the intention being to put
the United Kingdom in a position to

RAPER NEEDED ALONG SIDEWALKS

HAYING TIME is just about due along the sidewalks and many of the streets of the town. We expect to hear the hum of the reaper any day now. It will be a glad sound to many citizens interested in the good appearance of the town.

THE FIRST HALF HOLIDAY

LAST THURSDAY was the first of the seasons half holiday for the town folks. So far as it is known every signer of the agreement lived up to its spirit, at least, tho there were some temptations to break the letter of law. It is worthy of notice and comment that the merchants themselves were anxious to be free from business cares on that day and many of them left their places of business on pleasure trips or for picnic parties or for summer resorts. If there was any attempt made to violate the agreement it was made on the part of customers who came to town that afternoon and evening expecting to do business as usual, either forgetting that it was a half holiday or expecting that somehow their merchants would defect from honor, violate the agreement and open up their stores for their convenience, one can readily see how a person living at a very great distance from town and who may not have been in for considerable time and therefore did not know of the half holiday, coming in that afternoon would be tremendously disappointed. While a very few could be excused in that way yet there is no excuse for the great majority, for the matter has been kept before the public for the past two months in the local paper. The merchants have also had signs displayed in the stores announcing clearly that every Thursday afternoon during July and August would be a half holiday when places of business would be closed.

The merchants and business men of the town have signed an agreement that they will not do business on those afternoons. They are expected to keep faith one with the other and it is to be hoped that all will co-operate in enabling them to do so.

NEW AMENDMENTS TO LIQUOR LAW ARE NOW IN FORCE

THE NEW AMENDMENTS to the Alberta liquor laws which came into force three days after the first of July, 1917 makes it more difficult than ever for the old-time bootlegger to do his illegitimate business. There is a feeling that the new provisions will mean real prohibition for the province. Some of the provisions are as follows:

(1) No person in Alberta can have on his premises more than one quart of spirits and two gallons of malt.

(2) All liquor warehouses and commission firms are entirely put out of business.

(3) There shall be no advertising of any description in the interests of any kind of liquor. This applies to newspaper, electric sign, bill posting, circular letter-advertising. In short advertising of liquor, within the province, in any shape or form is illegal.

(4) Personal canvassing is also strictly forbidden.

(5) Government officials have the liberty of examining express companies' books in tracing infringements of the act.

Public sentiment is growing in favor of this prohibition law and gradually the offender against it is being looked upon as the most undesirable kind of citizen.

FOOD CONTROL

THE OFFICIAL food controller for Canada has been appointed and has already made some suggestions as to his program and methods. He declares that food conservation is an absolute necessity as a means of winning the war. He asks Canadians to help along the following lines: "Maximum production; the largest possible consumption of perishable food-stuffs in order to liberate the storable foods for transportation; the adoption of war menus; the prevention of food waste; the utilization and creation of organized volunteer bodies to assist the food controller in increasing and conserving the food supplies."

These suggestions are good as far as they go. But they do not go far enough, unless in the suggestion, "the prevention of food waste" there is more meaning that we can see on the surface. There is one suggestion lacking which Mr. Hanna should add and that is, the prevention or prohibition of the waste of food stuffs in the manufacture of spirituous liquors. Statisticians are agreed that thousands of dollars' worth of the staple food stuffs are wasted every year in this Dominion on this unnecessary evil. As a matter of fact, the people of Canada last year spent, in round figure, the sum of ninety million dollars on intoxicants made from Canada's food stuffs. England will need all the wheat and barley and rye she can procure from us this year to save her from probable starvation. Why then not enter upon the problem of "conservation" and "prevention" of waste in every possible way.

MCLAUGHLIN CARS ARE PROVING VERY POPULAR IN FRANCE

To Pink and Blackburn McLaughlin Dealers, Ottawa, Ontario.

Dear Sirs:—Several of my officer friends in the French Army are keenly interested in the performance of McLaughlin 6-cylinder motor which I am using for Army Engineering work in this area. They are especially interested in the Delco electrical self-starting, lighting and ignition system and are desirous of getting full information of this and other systems of similar kind such as the Bijou and Delco, commonly fitted on all American cars.

I have no doubt that you will be rather interested to learn that I have recently driven one of the 1917 McLaughlin-Buick Canadian machines over the French Alps on three different occasions. I was accompanied at different times by French machines costing several times the price of the Canadian car; the performance on the mountain roads compared very favorably with any machines in the convoy, and I have no hesitation in coming on either to the front or tail end of the other machines I find on the highways. My opinion of the Canadian built machine has gone up since my recent experience with the McLaughlin Buick.

Trusting you will be able to give me some information on the electrical system mentioned above, I am,

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) Geo H. Johnson, Canadian Forestry Corps.
